Continuing Education Workshop

Purpose:

June 1981 is notable for the first case of AIDS (acquired immunodeficiency syndrome) announced in the United States. The impact of HIV/AIDS over the last 43 years has been unquestionably profound in numerous ways especially affecting the health and well-being of our aging and older populations. The National Institute on Aging indicates, “Nearly half of people living with HIV in the United States are age 50 and older” and although many were diagnosed in their younger years, “thousands of older people get HIV every year.” With prevention strategies and techniques, including PEP and PrEP, so accessible, why is the CDC reporting that researchers estimate that 70% of people living with HIV will be 50 or older by 2030?

Participants in this workshop will review the history and explore the realities, issues and long-term outcomes of older adults living with HIV. We will also explore challenges for the prevention of acquiring HIV for older adults and how those challenges can be met and addressed by family members and providers.

Presenter:

Richelle Frabotta, MEd, CSE, CSES, has been a professional sexuality education teacher, trainer, mentor and author for over 33 years. Frabotta serves as the LGBTQ+ Health Initiatives Project Manager at Public Health - Dayton & Montgomery County and works diligently to increase resources, access and equity among LGBTQ+ older adults and other populations.

This workshop takes place on Zoom. The presenter requests participants keep their cameras on during the presentation to ensure optimum engagement.
